

UML State Diagram

(Server Site Package Tracking)

The UML State Diagram depicts the server side of a package tracking service. The server is Waiting for a request to come in. The request is searched for in the database and and a response is created based on the results.